

GRANITE HILL
CELLARS

JUST AS THE GOLDEN POPPY FLOURISHES IN THE BEDROCK, SO DO SOME OF THE WORLD'S BEST WINE GRAPES.

Breathtaking and foreboding, the Sierra Nevada is an awesome and majestic mountain chain composed of solid granite. California's state flower, the golden poppy, sprouts from the granite and paints the foothills of the Sierra Nevada with a brilliant splash of color.

The Mokelumne River was born in the Sierra Nevada's granite passes. Over millennia, the river's raging water carried decomposed granite west into the Central Valley of California, forming alluvial fans that comprise the renowned soils of an area known as the Lodi Appellation.

More than a century ago, settlers braved the harsh Sierra Nevada in search of a new life and staked their claims in Lodi's rich, fertile soils. For generations, the Kautz Family has proudly farmed in Lodi and the Sierra Nevada's rolling foothills. Their brand, Granite Hill Cellars, is an homage to the passion and pioneering spirit the Kautz Family has put into crafting beautiful wines forged from granite.

Beauty in Every Bottle

The Granite Hill portfolio captures the essence of the Lodi Appellation with carefully crafted, varietally correct wines from sustainably farmed estate vineyards. The Kautz Family's commitment to sustainability helps ensure the longevity of their land and the environment around them.

CABERNET SAUVIGNON displays aromas of dark cherries and toasted vanilla oak, followed up with flavors of black currants, blueberries, sweet raspberry and slight hint of tobacco and spice. The finish is lingering and flavorful with red currants and oak.

CHARDONNAY is supple with flavors of tropical fruits, like guava, apple and passionfruit that leads into vanilla beans and a creamy medium finish.

PETITE SIRAH is a deep dark purple color with aromas of cherries and blueberries. The flavor is of plums and a warm berry pie followed by sweet vanilla oak that finishes with some soft and slightly spicy tannins.

PINOT GRIGIO displays exotic floral aromas that stream into some subtle green apple and citrus with a light spiciness. The finish is smooth and lasting with some ending notes of white peaches.

PINOT NOIR is rich with flavors of black cherries, cranberries, cloves, tobacco with a touch of caramel and vanilla. The fruit forward style finishes lush and full.

OLD VINE ZINFANDEL is loaded with aromas of blackberry jam, followed by flavors of black cherries, strawberries, soft peppercorn and a sweet & smoky spice that finish long, flavorful and lingering.
